OBJECT TO PAYING DUTY. Question Raised on American Goods Shipped From Hong Kong to Manila. A firm of Chinese merchants at Hong Kong, through its attorneys, has submitted to the War Department the question of the validity of duty levied upon American goods shipped from Hong Kong to Manila. The firm maintains the duty should not be paid; first, because the exportation from Hong Kong took place under assurances given by the American consul general at Hong Kong that the goods, being American, would, so far as known, be exempt from duty; second, because the goods were American and no duty should be charged for their admittance to any port under American control; and, third, because from the date of the signing of the protocol, August 12 1898 the occu-

that territory.

The specific instance upon which the question is raised was the shipment of 15,000 cases of comet oil and 5,000 bags of American flour from Hong Kong to Mantia.
